

Give my Regards to Broadway

for AEH

Give my regards to Broadway, remember me to Herald Square, tell all the gang at Forty-Second Street that I will soon be there.

Stride through the marble pillars of the old Waldorf Astór, stand at the bar and pound the fist for whiskey once once more.

Tell all the girls at Stanley's that I am in the flesh somewhere beyond the Ocean at no-name fixed address.

Whisper of how I'm yearning to mingle with the old time throng, give my regards to old Broadway and say that I'll be thERRRRRe ERRRRRe long.

NOTE: The song Give my Regards to Broadway by George M. Cohan (1878–1942) is in the public domain. I've divided the original chorus in half to make the first and last verses and added two new verses. The meter is a bit rough, but that just gives the singer some leeway for phrasing. And Stanley's is just made up.
